P R E F A C E.

THE editor of the following sheets, is an attorney, who not having seen, amongst the various law books, an attempt of this kind before, and who, in the practice of his profession, having rarely met with a proper bill of costs, but such as have been in common erroneous ; (however strange the assertion may seem) he was, for these reasons, induced to compile the following tables of the fees that are now allowed on suits instituted in the courts of King's Bench, Common Pleas, and Ex- chequer, with remarks on the law of costs, and manner of proceeding in replevin, not to be found in any law book extant, and consequently unknown to many of the profession; which, he doubts not, will be found of general utility.
A 2 chequer,

Tables of fees on such a variety of suits are here collected, (to say nothing of the instructions that will be conveyed by the methodical manner in which they are executed, which in fact may be said to be in themselves an epitome of the practice) that the attorney, agent, and clerk, will hereby be fully enabled to draw proper bills of costs in every cause and business at common law, as well as for Fines and Recoveries for both town and country.

To this edition is added an appendix; containing, costs of a suit in dower; country arrest; a trial by special jury, with a view; costs of motions for the same, being very special and rare; acknowledging satisfaction on judgments; the costs of a plaintiff in replevin, for variety of special pleading from the distress made on his goods, to the end of the suit, with a late determination by the judges on a replevin case in point of practice; and superseatas to discharge prisoners, &c.

That the purchasers of the former editions of the tables of costs may be accommodated with this useful addition thereto, at the least expence, it may be had alone, price only 6d.

Common Pleas. In Hilary Term, 1777.

A motion was made to this court to set aside a judgment, signed by defendant in replevin, for want of a plea in bar.—The case was, that defendant had pleaded an avowry, to which plaintiff put in a plea in bar.—Afterwards defendant obtained an order on a summons to amend the avowry, on payment of costs: Both which being done; defendant gave a new rule for the plaintiff to plead in bar de novo; and then demanded plea in bar afresh. The plaintiff paid no regard thereto: Whereupon defendant signed judgment: Which the plaintiff prayed might be set aside. The question put by the court was, how the practice stood in this case? Which was answered by Mr. Prothonotary Dickins to be, that after rule to plead in bar de novo, and demand made, and no such plea by plaintiff, the old plea in bar stood as before; whereto defendant ought to have replied instead of signing Judgment.—The judgment was set aside.

Serjeant Grose for the plaintiff

Serjeant Walker for the defendant.
